

Eleanore Doyle

Partial list of Items to be Auctioned:

Eleanore Doyle was an avid collector & buyer of holiday décor and glassware. She was previously employed in the floral business, and also taught crafts, ceramics, needlework, & quilting. She has acquired an extensive amount of instructional material and patterns for needlework, as well as fabrics, yarns, and patterns.

She also took great pride in the making of unique, porcelain dolls, no two being the same, with life-like eyes and personalities! These are truly outstanding dolls!

She also found a hobby in shopping, and many of the items being sold are new, &/or unused!

She had acquired many of her mother's possessions who was in her 90's when she passed away several years ago. Eleanore's china, porcelain, and glassware collections, along with that of her mother's is a beautiful and large collection.

She is now in her 90's and has recently moved to a skilled care facility, and will therefore be selling most her household goods and collections. Below is only a partial list of the items to be sold. This will be one of the best auctions in the area, with something for everyone - quality newer AND vintage/antique items! Enjoy the treasure hunt! If you love to decorate for the holidays, or are a collector, this is one auction you won't want to miss!
